Early Results on Alzheimer's Vaccine Trial in People with Down Syndrome Promising, Researchers Say

December 16, 2019

People with Down syndrome offer unique opportunities for clinicians exploring effective treatments for Alzheimer’s that could benefit both the Down syndrome and the general populations. Learn more about AC Immune’s efforts in working with the Down syndrome population to learn more about Alzheimer’s and how to treat it.

Link to the full article